The 1967 United Appeal Campaign is now under way, on and off campus. PROFESSOR ALFRED LOFT (history), faculty representative, and personnel director W.A. BENDER, staff representative, would welcome questions, offers of assistance -- and donations!

Faculty and staff interested in the sciences and applied mathematics are invited to a lecture to be given October 20 at 12:30 p.m. on "Mathematical Models in Biology." The speaker will be Dr. Z.A. Melzak of UBC's mathematics department, and the place ELL 168. Dr. Melzak will speak at a department of mathematics colloquium on computer sciences at 4:00 p.m. that afternoon. The colloquium--like the coffee beforehand--is being brewed mainly for experts.

The first of four Centennial lecturers will visit the University later this month, to give one formal lecture and spend a day or two in informal discussion with faculty and students. Sir Steven Runciman, an eminent British historian, opens the series October 17 with a lecture on Byzantine art. David Cornwell, better known as John Le Carré, will come in from the cold to talk about spies October 31 (the date may be changed to October 27). Speakers in November will be actor-author Robert Speaight and Professor Russell Harper, a leading historian of Canadian painting. All lectures will be given in the Education-Arts lecture theatre at 12:30 p.m. The lecturers are touring Canada under the auspices of the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada.

A new study of B.C.'s early days, edited by DR. GEORGE SHELTON (history), was a major item in a Centennial book-exhibition opened Friday, October 13, in the foyer of the McPherson Playhouse. The exhibition, on view from 2:00 to 6:00 p.m. Friday and Saturday, was sponsored by the Marionette Book Shop. A section on graphics featured a display by Morriss Printing on phases of production for Dr. Shelton's book. Entitled British Columbia and Confederation, it consists of eight essays by former history students here. Another University contributor was HOWARD GERWING, special collections librarian, who selected rare books from the McPherson Library's holdings.

Milton and Christian Heroism, by DR. BURTON KURTH (English), has been republished by the Shoe String Press of Hamden, Conn.

A Centennial project by three members of the department of modern languages is now off the press. Le Québec, Tradition et Evolution is a two-volume reader on French Canada, prepared by DR. W.H. HICKMAN, MONSIEUR JEAN-PIERRE MENTHA, and DR. GERALD MOREAU. It is published by W.J. Gate Ltd.

DR. WILLIAM BENZIE (English) has been awarded his Ph.D. by the University of Aberdeen.
